

Donna A. Harman

Donna Harman, American Forest & Paper Association (AF&PA) President and Chief Executive Officer, is recognized by industry leaders and national public policymakers as a leading expert on public policy for the pulp, paper, packaging, tissue and wood products manufacturing sector. Before assuming her current role in May 2007, Harman was AF&PA's Senior Vice President, Policy and Government Affairs.

Harman serves on the BIPAC Board of Directors and is a member of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization's steering committee on Sustainable Forest Industries. She is the past president of the International Council of Forest and Paper Associations and a past chair of the National Association of Manufacturers' (NAM) Council of Manufacturing Associations. Harman currently serves on the Anderson University (Indiana) Board of Trustees and is the Secretary-Treasurer of the Forest Products Industry National Labor Management Committee and a member of the North American Forest Partnership board.

Born in Elkhart, Kansas, Harman earned a bachelor's degree in public affairs from Anderson University (Indiana) and a law degree from the American University. She is a member of the District of Columbia Bar Association, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Association Committee of 100 and is on RISI's Top 50 Power List for the pulp and paper industry.